

Featured artist

Kate Bridger

1-Dec-2015

Whether it's my home, my wardrobe, or my work ... in my world, there can never be too much colour! And, while the painter can usually contain his palette in a box or a few drawers, mine occupies an entire room—overflowing bins of fabrics bursting with colour, texture and potential.

Working as a Fabric Artist over the past three decades, I have manipulated, bullied, stretched and scraped my medium to portray many subjects ... landscapes, rusty old trucks, house portraits, abstracts and images I have harvested on my travels through Europe, New Zealand and my home country,

Featured artist (502)

Home decor (2)

Colours (4)

Wardrobe (1)

Floral (2)

Moodboard (3)

Hello June - Hello new colour scheme!
June 1, 2017

Silk Art by Katarzyna Pander-Liszka

May 22, 2017

Bonnie Lynn

May 20, 2017

Alina Korytova

May 15, 2017

'From my colourful garden with love...' Happy Mother's Day!

May 12, 2017

Cheerful Yellow

May 5, 2017

Canada. My technique involves fabric collage ... hours of meticulous cutting and placing followed by freestyle machine rendering to add detail, dimension and credibility to the work. But fabric is fickle and shifty and, every now and then, it is the medium that determines my outcome and I am merely the obedient steward eagerly awaiting the surprising results to emerge in spite of me!

When I first began playing with fabrics, my techniques were very simplistic but, over the years, I have refined and honed my skills and have, on many occasions, had my work described as 'painterly' and even had it mistaken for photographs. I think these are compliments, although I don't know if it works in reverse ... would a painter be flattered if one said his/her work looked like material? Along with creating a large body of work during my career, I have also been an avid marketer ... one has to be! I owned a gallery for almost a decade but now, with a little nudge from the outside world, I have taken to social media and post regularly on Facebook and Etsy ... not bad for an old gal! The best part of stepping into the 21st Century has been discovering other fibre/textile/fabric artists around the globe. By joining these communities and sharing work online, we inspire and encourage one another and have shown the world that 'sewing' is not just a hobby traditionally associated with housewives and quilting groups ... this is a bona fide art form and I am both proud and humbled to be able to contribute to it.

Find me here:

Gallery of Fabric Art

Author page

Blog

Facebook

Pinterest

Etsy

Tags: quilt-patchwork canada

0 comments

Leave a message...

Juvika

April 17, 2017

Pavla Čepelíková / Saffron Addict

April 11, 2017

abstract accessories afghanistan
animal paintings animals
argentina armenia australia
austria baby shower
bags and purses batik bead art
beaded jewelry belarus belgium
birds birth bohem style brazil
bulgaria canada cat
ceramic jewelry ceramic&clay art
chile christmas clothing
collage columbia costa rica
croatia cross stitch
czech republic denmark
dolls and figures drawings dress
easter embroidery fabric design
fairy tale felt accessories
felt art felt dresses
felted animals felted figures
feminine paintings fiber art
floral floral jewelry
floral paintings flowers folk
folk jewelry france gemstones
georgia germany gift glass
glass art glass jewelry
graphic design greece green
handmade handpainted jewelry
hearts henna henna art
henna paintings home dcor
home decor hungary iceland
illustration illustrations india
indigo ink iran ireland israel
italy japa mala japan
jewelry kenya kids
knit and crochet
landscape paintings landscapes